Getting your work requirement out of the way does not need to be a big production. Below is a list of things we need done. If you have the time, talent and inclination sign up for a project. Smaller projects that need no explanation dive right in. On larger projects email us or call to discuss how to proceed. We are looking for self starters willing to grab onto a project and make it happen. To claim a line item use the email link and we will put your name next to it. When done email us and we will give you credit for the detail.
